| Mentor Training Program Update | D. Wilcock discussed the goals for the Mentor Training Program and the associated curriculum.

  Per her presentation, D. Wilcock reviewed each speaker’s subject during their session, completions and next steps. They required new regular title series faculty to take this in the fall semester. Current class has 14 faculty enrolled and in March there are 15 signed up to start. The Mentor Training Program will be offered again in the fall. This is required of regular title series faculty but open to others to enroll.

  Other mentions during D. Wilcock’s review:
  - Currently talking to the Alliance Research Initiative Teams individually
  - Alliance Research Initiative teams are currently presenting their six-month review
  - Requiring Individual Development Plans for mentees on Alliance Research Initiative Teams
  - Considering holding a grant writing workshop for those ready to start writing grants. They currently do this in the basic science departments

  There are a couple points of progress with the Mentor Training Program:
  - The College of Health Sciences wants to do the same thing and are currently taking the training so they can facilitate their own mentor program
  - There is a lot of discussion about trying to do this campus-wide. Of note is what has worked/what has not worked during the Mentor Training Program

  D. Wilcock requested advice and had open discussion:
  - D. Jones asked if the nature of the mentor/mentee was not applicable to the senior administrator mentoring the new department chair.
  - D. Wilcock mentioned mentoring is available at every level.
  - L. Tannock said the University Office of Faculty Advancement includes some of all topics and there is overlap between that office and what the college offers. |
| Mentor Training Program Update (cont.) | • D. Toney asked if they can consider a more abbreviated program for clinical faculty.
• S. Kapoor mentioned that L. Goldstein, Chair of Neurology, instituted a formal mentor program for residents and faculty; everyone has a mentor. They meet twice a year: clinical, research, academic, and any other areas.
• K. Campbell mentioned the Center for Clinical and Translational Science (CCTS) Mentor Training Workshop; Joel Thompson is the contact.
Please reach out to D. Wilcock with additional questions and/or comments. H. Ballard would like to hear from clinical faculty. This is time-intensive so feedback is welcomed. |

| Announce Upcoming Bimonthly Updates of Committees | M. Sanger shared there will be a committee update given next month.
• From a planning and scheduling perspective, we have proposed one committee update every other month, allotting 10-15 minutes.
• Committee updates may be moved “off schedule” if Faculty Council needs the time to address other pressing items.
• If the agenda is light, more than one committee may provide an update in any given month.
M. Sanger asked for feedback from those in attendance on the change of allotted times for committees to share updates.
• A. Hatcher believes the committee she is a member of may need more time for their update and seeks advice on how to condense their information to share in a shorter amount of time.
• D. Jones mentioned there may be more reporting on what they have done, which may share a future objective.
• A. Hatcher asked if the committees are keeping minutes.
• H. Ballard asked if committees could share their minutes with the Faculty Council.
• M. Sanger asked: How much information does the Faculty Council need to know versus how much does the Committee share (comprehensively)? How much do Committees need to share for accountability?
• H. Ballard said it is important to have highlights from each committee.
• D. Jones asked if The Loop will be the place for all committee minutes to be posted.
• M. Sanger shared that committees’ minutes will be shared in The Loop once it is available. |
| Other Business | • The next Faculty Council meeting is February 16, 2021, at 5:00 p.m.
• H. Ballard adjourned the meeting at 5:41 p.m. |
